John Davenport.

John Davenport died at his home, 2304 Perez Street yesterday morning at 3:45 o'clock. He was a former resident of Bandera and had made his home here since 1911. At the time of his death he was employed by the United States Government. He is survived by his widow, two sons, Ralph and William; his father, W. H. Davenport of San Antonio; five brothers, O. G. and Sam of San Antonio, Mark and William Joseph of Bandera, and Hal H. of Dallas.
Burial will be made at Hondo this afternoon under the direction of Porter Loring.—San Antonio Express, February 20.

The body of the late Mr. Davenport arrived at Hondo on the 12:55 train Sunday afternoon and was carried to the home of his father-in-law, Mr. J. T.
Smith, to await the funeral hour, 3:00 o'clock.

While the deceased was practically unknown here his passing nevertheless attracted more than a passing notice from the fact that his wife (nee Cordella Smith) is a Hondo girl, born and reared here, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Smith.
To her, and to her two little orphaned sons, yet too young to realize the overwhelming misfortune that has overtaken them, the sympathy of our people go out in unstinted measure.

It was known here for some ten days or more prior to his death that Mr. Davenport was desperately ill but everyone counted on his robust physique to stand him in good stead in the terrible struggle he was making with the Grim Reaper that he might remain the comfort and protector of his loved ones, but in spite of his heroic efforts his soul took its flight last Saturday morning. He was first attacked by influenza; anaemia developed and despite all that medical science and devoted nursing could do the malady progressed to a fatal termination.

The funeral occurred from the Smith residence in the southern part of the town. D. I. Hiler of Sabinal, a minister of the Christian Church, delivered a brief address and offered up a prayer, following which the procession wended its way and the mortal remains of John Davenport now await the Resurrection Morn in the Hondo cemetery.

May a kindly Heavenly Father who notes even the sparrow's fall, watch over, comfort and protect his widow and orphaned babes in their irreparable loss is the prayer of all our people.

The following out-of-town relatives and friends of the late John Davenport attended his funeral here last Sunday: Sam Davenport, Reel Parker and C. M. Griffith, San Antonio.

Mark Davenport, Roland Davenport and wife and Wm. J. Davenport, Ban-dera.

D. I. Hiler, minister, Sabinal.

County Teachers Meet.

Upon call of the County Superintendent the teachers of Medina County met at the court house on February 19th, 1921, with sixteen rural districts and twenty-two teachers represented.
Hondo and D'Hanis Independent Districts were also represented.

Superintendent Saathoff discussed various school matters with his teachers, among them were school registers and term reports. He stressed the necessity of having these reports accurate.

The Book Requisition was taken up and all teachers were supplied with necessary blanks for requisition for new books.

The Annual Report for state text books requires careful study. Mr.
Saathoff urged the teachers to use all diligence to have all the reports sent to the Department correct.

All the schools reported ample text books on hand. A few schools have a surplus. This surplus is due to the fact that several families have moved from the immediate district.

The free text book law was discussed. Apparently it seemed that all the teachers were in favor of the free text book and would not go on record as opposing the law. The circular letter sent out by the Parent-Teacher Association of Pearsall, opposing the text book law, was tabled.

The County Interscholastic Meet was discussed at length. Nearly all the teachers present had paid their dues to the State and expressed their willingness of entering the Meet. The teachers recommended that the County Meet should be held at Hondo. The time and place for the Meet will be decided by the executive committee of which Prof. Smith of Devine is Director General.

Colored Teacher Thanks White Citizens.

To the Editor of The Hondo Anvil Herald:

Please allow me space in your valuable paper to thank our white friends for their attendance and liberal contributions to our concert which was given on the night of February 22 (Washington's birthday). This concert was given for the benefit of getting sporting goods for the colored school; it is the aim of the teacher to make the school the center of attraction for old as well as the young; the environment of the child has an important bearing upon his success for future citizenship, therefore the schoolroom and grounds should be made attractive.

Permit me to again thank you for your support.

A good colored school in Hondo means much to the white people of the city; it means better laborers, better farmers, better house servants, better cooks, better wash-women, better laundries. It means to take the idle girl and boy off the streets and prepare them for future usefulness; they should be taught honesty, truthfulness and to be lawabiding citizens.

I don't think the time has yet come that colored teachers should teach such subjects as physics, geometry, Greek, and Latin and higher subjects in our school, but deal with such subjects as will better fit the rising generation for such avenues of life as will better prepare them to make an honest living and better citizens.

H. G. GRANT,
Principal Colored School.

The Lower House of the Legislature outvoted a bill introduced by G. C.
Morris of Medina County, proposing to amend the Dean prohibition law so that violators of the law could be convicted on the unsupported testimony of the purchaser of the liquor or an accomplice. In a statement regarding the action of the lower house Governor Neff said in part: "As governor, I thought this broken link in the law should be mended. The members of the house did not think so. The verdict of a jury in a case of this kind I think should be permitted to stand.
The bill the legislature was asked to pass was copied from the old local option law, and during the long years of the enforcement of the local option law the wisdom of this law was never questioned, but on the contrary, enabled the local option law to be enforced."—Light.

DANGERS OF A COLD
Hondo People Do Well to Heed Them.

Many bad cases of kidney trouble result from a cold or chill. Congested kidneys fall behind in filtering the poison-laden blood and back-ache, headache, dizziness and disordered kidney action follow. Don't neglect a cold. Use Doan's Kidney Pills at the first sign of kidney trouble. Follow this Hondo resident's example.

Mrs. Heyo Schweers gave the following statement May 28, 1915: "I had an attack of kidney trouble some years ago. My kidneys acted irregularly and caused me annoyance, and there were other ailments arising from disordered kidneys. I believe the trouble was brought on from a cold which settled in my kidneys. I purchased Doan's Kidney Pills at Windrow's Drug Store and just a short use corrected the trouble which has never returned."

On May 3, 1919, Mrs. Schweers said: "I have had no occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills since they cured me four years ago. My back is now strong and my kidneys act as regular as ever."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy--get Doan's Kidney Pills--the same that Mrs. Schweers had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

GET TO WORK, DON'T WAIT.

Last year, just after the Medina County Interscholastic Meet, there was a big heading in the "Juajilla Leaf" saying, "Blue and White Captures 217 Points out of Grand total of 382."

You all know it is just a short time until the County Meet of 1921. What are the results going to be this year? Will "Old H. H. S." triumph again? The answer to these questions depends upon you--the students of Hondo Hi. If you put forth every effort on your part, we will wipe all other towns off the county map.

It is true we are put to a great disadvantage by not having a coach for the track team, but this disadvantage may be overcome by hard, grueling, unceasing, individual training on the part of every track man. Any coach will tell you the future of a track man depends chiefly upon his individual being--he is just what he makes himself and no more.

Owing to inclement weather and the "rabbit-drives" there has been little, or no track practice for the past two weeks, but, under the leadership of Captain Filleman, practice has begun and we expect to see every man "at his job" from now on. No matter if you don't expect to win first place in every event you enter, you can help the school by coming out, for a pile of second places mixed with an occasional first, will win any track meet.

Also, if you are a gifted debater, essay writer, declaimer, speller, tennis player, or good at any other events of the meet, don't be a "slacker"--MAKE A NAME FOR YOURSELF AND YOUR SCHOOL.

NO INDIGESTION,
GAS, SOURNESS

"Papo's Diapiesin" has proven itself the surest relief for Indigestion, Gas, Flatulency, Heartburn, Sourness, Fermentation or Stomach Distress caused by acidity. Millions helped annually.

A TONIC
Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic restores Energy and Vitality by Purifying and Enriching the Blood. When you feel its strengthening, invigorating effect, see how it brings color to the cheeks and how it improves the appetite, you will then appreciate its true tonic value. Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic is simply Iron and Quinine suspended in syrup. So pleasant even children like it. The blood needs QUININE to Purify it and IRON to Enrich it. Destroys Malarial germs and Grip germs by its Strengthening, Invigorating Effect. 60c.

CHECKING UP THE SWAG
New York Subway Victim of Pickpockets Saw Great Light When It Was Too Late.

In the subway some evenings ago there was an unusual crush near one of the side doors. A merchant managed to reach the platform of his appointed station and as he alighted a young man at his side remarked:

"A terrible push; I wonder if a gang of pickpockets were at work. It looked like it."

"Perhaps."

"I wonder if they made a haul. Lose anything?"

The merchant reached for his pocket. Then he stopped suddenly.

"By jove! They got mine!" he exclaimed.

"Much in it?"

"Enough to hurt some; $143."

"Too bad," said the young man, as he lost himself in the crowd.

The Jersey man reached his ferry before it struck him. "One of the gang, sure as you live," he said to himself. "Checking up so as to be sure of his share of the swag!"--New York Sun.

SEES HIMSELF IN SPOTLIGHT

Bachelor Is Naturally Wondering If That Is How the Ladies Really Regard Him.

A Terre Haute bachelor stopped at a friend's house the other night to get him to accompany him to a community meeting. The friend was a "much married" man and his spouse did not wish him to go to the lecture. So she told her husband so.

They were in the next room and her husband was afraid the bachelor might hear her and he did not desire for the other man to think that he was so henpecked. So he raised a warning hand at his wife. But she continued in a voice louder than ever. "I don't care if he does hear. If there's anything that makes me tired it is some old bachelor going around cluttering up the earth."

The bachelor was startled. What he wants to know now is whether or not all women regard him in the same light.--Indianapolis News.

Settin' Pretty.

"Howdy, Gap!" saluted an acquaintance. "How are you fixed for the winter?"

"Finer'n frog hair, Gabe!" triumphantly replied Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge. "Wife has sewed up seven or eight of the younger children in their underclothes to stay till spring, and has begun the song that she'll sing all winter about needing a new dress or bunnet, or something; my trifling brother-in-law has arrived to reside till the jaybirds nest again; I've got plenty of stovewood, sidemast, and such as that; and am all ready to hole up till the buds bust. We're shore all hunky at our house, Gabe!"--Kansas City Star.

A Ship of Rumor.

Laid up for her final rest at Port Stanley, in the Falkland Isles, the old Great Britain, seventy-seven years of age, and the first big screw steamer to go into deep waters, had to submit to a short detention on account of bad weather in the year that saw the opening of the Crimean war. Returning to Liverpool early in 1854, the Great Britain was taken for an advance guard of a Russian invasion, and for an hour or two caused a greater sensation locally than the famous Russian troop trains early in the great war. She was at that time, according to a local paper, the fastest ship in the world.--London Chronicle.

His Inability.

"A father should keep pace with his children," didactically said the presiding elder. "The theory--"

"That may be all right in--p'tu! theory, parson," replied Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge, "but I'm too fur along in years to be on the dead run all the time."

"Oh, I mean he should make himself one of them as far as possible--think as they think, talk as they talk--"

"Eh--yah! But I'm s'posed to be old enough to know better than to be--p'tu--cussing and yelling from morning till night."--Boston Transcript.

Wheels of Industry.

Fifty million horsepower comprises the total, both steam and water power generated, now in use in the United States. It is conservatively estimated that as much more can be developed by utilization of the water power resources. The Department of the Interior has placed the potential water power at 60,000,000 horsepower, of which but 10,000,000 is now developed. This saves the country upward of 33,000,000 tons of coal annually.

Delicate Discretion.

"You did not use the form 'Merry Xmas' this year."

"I avoided the 'X.' There is a time for everything, and I thought it would be as well not to do anything which might get article X mixed into the holiday picture."

Observant Paw.

"Paw, what is an advertisement?" "An advertisement is the picture of a pretty girl eating, wearing, holding or driving something that somebody wants to sell."--Nashville Tennessean.

The Munchausen Medalist.

The Munchausen prize for 1920 goes to a denizen of New Jersey, who tells of a windmill going so fast in a young cyclone that it pumped hot water.--Portland Oregonian.

Prominent Western Man Praises Tanlac

G. W. Logan, Peabody, Kansas

"Tanalac has completely restored my health and I feel finer than in years," was the straightforward statement made recently by Mr. George W. Logan, of Peabody, Kansas, one of the most prominent stock-dealers in the Middle West.

"It has not only made a new man of me but I have actually gained thirty-five pounds in weight and feel as well as I ever did in my life. I am telling all of my friends about Tanlac but they can see for themselves what it has done in my case."

"When I began taking Tanlac I was in an awfully run-down condition. I was away off in weight, felt weak and nervous all of the time and couldn't take any interest in my work or anything else. My main trouble was indigestion. Nothing seemed to agree with me. At times I would have dizzy spells and at other times my back would ache so bad that I could hardly get up and down in my chair. This is just the condition I was in when I started to take this medicine. It took just six bottles to make a well man of me. I now have a fine appetite, everything tastes good and my digestion is perfect."

"My wife was also troubled with indigestion at times and it relieved her the same way. You may publish my statement wherever you like and if anyone doubts it, just tell them to see me."

Tanalac is sold in Hondo by W. H. Windrow; in Castrovilla by Joseph Courand & Co.; and in Dunlay by Louis A. Baby; and by all leading druggists.

HEALTH EXAMINATION.

Under the supervision of the Mothers' Club, the doctors and nurses of the town gave dental and medical examinations to the school children. This examination brought several things to view that heretofore had remained hidden. It was discovered that many of the students had granulated eyelids, but an easy remedy for this can be given if it is applied for before the disease develops any FURTHER.

The doctors stated that the students, as a whole, were in much better condition than they had been the preceding year. Many improvements, which had been recommended last year, were noted, which proves that these examinations do much to better the health conditions of the school and town.

Enough praise cannot be given the doctors and nurses who gave their services free of charge. They will never know how much the school appreciates what they did, as it is too great to express in words.

Not only did the doctors and nurses offer their services, but several members of the Mothers' Club assisted in the examinations. These ladies were very faithful, always on time and ready to do as they were bidden. Mrs. J. R. Chancey may especially be mentioned as having played an important part in the examinations.

The Mothers' Club has done many things for the interest of the students, but none which proves that it has the right spirit as do these examinations. As stated before, these examinations have greatly improved the health conditions, and in this way they have helped the school, as a healthy child is much easier to teach than an unhealthy one.

Few schools, if any, have mothers who take as much interest in the students as we, and the school should be proud of them, and not only the school but the town should be proud of such a progressive club.

Those who examined, and assisted in the examination of the students, were: Drs. Smith, Meyer, Bradley, Kirby, Taylor and Schlottmann; nurses, Mrs. Buford Hurt, Mrs. Leo Schweers; members of Mothers' Club, Mesdames J. R. Chancey, H. J. Meyer, Earl Starnes, F. S. Cockrell, J. G. Heyen and Horace Bradley.

The Conqueror.

I have no patience with the man who says,
"Another day is gone."

Give me the man with iron will to climb.
"Soon will be dawn!"

I have no patience with the man who holds Life as a beggar's tale

Give me the man with iron will to climb
And courage not to fail.

He dies indeed who never sees the sun, Nor hears the song of rain.

But his is immortality on earth, Whose every loss is gain!

—Morris Abel Beer in N. Y. Sun.

He never climbs who fears to fall!

"He wished to do what he should,
And did as much as he could."

His is the greatest success who has Learned to make his failures stepping stones to achievement!

THE Potet banner is a new five-quarto paper recently established by J. O. Blackwell at Potet, Texas.

The Banner is a healthy looking youngster and bids fair to be a creditable spokesman for the land of artesian water and strawberries.

THE body politic is sick, desperately sick. The unrest and the crime that afflict the country are but symptoms of what ails it. The causes are many and complex, but not the least of them is too much law and too little respect for it. And we are not going to have enough respect for our law until we get rid of some of our disreputable laws.

WITH hides scarcely worth hauling to the market, and a whole hide exchanging for a pair of hame strings, it would seem that the tanners must have a lot of nerve to go before Congress and demand, in one and the same breath, a protective duty on leather and free hides. Yet that is what they had the colossal gall to do. Representative John N. Garner, who is a member of the House Ways and Means Committee, before which the hearing was held, believes the farmer should have protection on hides if he is required to make purchases of other commodities in a protected market.

According to the press reports of the hearing, the Congressman bombarded the witnesses with questions and gave the leather men an uncomfortable time.
"Our John" can be depended upon to defend the interests of his people, and here is wishing him more strength to his good right arm.

GOVERNOR Neff issued a strong appeal through the press last week for all editors who write editorials for Sunday papers to write an editorial, all speakers who spoke to speak a piece, and all preachers who preached to preach a sermon last Sunday on respect for the law. With the Governor's well meant intentions, we are in heartiest sympathy, but, in all seriousness, we have not heard of a single gun-man, safe-cracker or boot-legger who was converted. They weren't out at the morning service, or especially attracted by the editorial pages of the big Sunday papers. The crimes that are now shaming the fair name and fame of our country are but the fruitage of that disregard for the sacredness of life and property, the seeds of which were sown in the bloody horrors of war. Whatsoever ye soweth, that shall ye also reap.
We sowed it in executive overriding of constitutional rights and guarantees. Sowed it in time-serving judicial decrees that were crimes more heinous than were those they purported to punish. Sowed it in legislative cringing and subterfuge. Sowed it in anarchy and lawlessness in high places—where to criticize was to commit a crime! No, Governor, the way back to safety and sanity does not lie in sermons and smooth sayings. They may help ease the way some. But we must first repent ourselves, in sackcloth and in ashes, of these greater sins, before the lesser criminals shall depart from us and vex us no more forever. Let us get back to a due regard for the rights of the individual on the part of our law makers—away from the wild-eyed vagaries of socialism and paternalism! Let us get back to the constitutional guarantees of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness vouchsafed to the individual, on the part of our law interpreters. Then shall our law enforcers have more time—and, let us hope, more success—for protecting us from the dangerous and the vicious, because of having to exercise less surveillance over the personal and ordinary affairs of the peaceful.

Roses, Sweet Roses.

Plant sweet roses everywhere, Let their perfume fill the air;
And their beauty please the eye Of every casual passer by.

Plant the ones you love the best,
Closer in than all the rest;
Take them in your daily life,
They will help you bear its strife.

Plant them near your kitchen door, They'll repay you o'er and o'er,
For the care and love you give
And happier be the life you'll live.

Beauty and fragrance in your sight Make your labor seem more light; Lift our thoughts to higher things Than the usual routine brings.

Plant them, all the colors bright,
And they will your soul delight, For there is no spot so small That you can have no rose at all.

—VARUNA HARTMANN.

Nothing is more conducive to contentment, after comfort, than an attractive home. Nothing adds more to the attractiveness of a home than well placed plants and shrubbery. Their cooling shade afford rest to our tired limbs and solace to our frayed nerves.

Their beauty of leaf and flower inspire elevating thoughts and lift our spirits above the things that are base and sordid. Plant them now—before the season for it is gone.

Every farm home should have its shade trees, its shrubbery, its climbing vines and its flower garden. They give a money touch to the humblest abode, cover from view the less attractive side of our surroundings, throw the better side into bolder relief, create a pride of ownership and rob country life of much of the barrenness of which we have heard some complain. Plant them now.

Few things are subjected to more shameful neglect on Texas farms than the home orchard. Before the sap begins to flow in the spring it should be carefully pruned. All dead, damaged or diseased branches should be carefully cut away and the refuse promptly burned. The branches retained should be so shaped as to give a symmetrical head to the tree and afford convenience in gathering the fruit.

In most parts of Texas, where the sun shines with an intense heat throughout much of the year, most fruit trees, and especially peaches and plums, should be made to branch low. In this manner, the tree's own shade becomes a protection to its roots and trunk against the penetrating heat of the sun.

One of the greatest insect enemies of trees of all kinds, fruit or shade, in Texas is the borer. There are several varieties of these pests, but all seem to have one characteristic more or less in common. They attack the least vigorous trees and begin their work almost invariably on the diseased or dying portions. By carefully pruning away and destroying these parts promptly, much of the damage and loss from these pests will be avoided.

The home orchard should be cultivated. That is to say, the fruit crop should be looked upon as one of the important items of the farm's production, and the orchard should no more be allowed to become a wilderness of weeds than any other field. The soil should be maintained in a good state of tilth, especially during the growing and fruiting season, and no useless vegetation should be permitted to sap the soil of moisture or plant food.

Of course, on many orchards it is found necessary to grow some annual crop, and on others, especially where they wash or where the soil is of a blow-sand nature, it is advantageous to grow a cover crop of some kind.

Orchards on thin land have been improved by the judicious growing of legume cover crops and plowing under the vegetation.

There is a measure now pending before the Legislature, and being supported by many good and well-meaning men, known as the Forestry Bill.

With its general purport, to promote tree planting in Texas and the reforestation of cut-over waste lands, no one can find any fault. In fact, we in this state have neglected this important matter too long. We do not profess any considerable degree of familiarity with the provisions of the pending measure, but there are two objectionable features that should condemn it in the eyes of all sane thinking men, it seems to us. It is proposed that the State establish a great nursery for the purpose of growing trees to be given free of charge to those wanting them. There is no more reason why the State should go into the nursery business in competition with the nursery men of the State than there is reason for it growing gourd vines to furnish us free dippers.

When are we ever going to call a halt in this mad race toward Socialism?
Then it is proposed to give the enforcement of the law over to a state institution of learning that is supposed to be designed to teach school and not do police duty over the state and which, if the rumors floating around of the hazings in its student body are true, is having trouble enough trying to police its own campus without trying to cover the great expanse of Texas. Oh! for a little more of the plain, simple democracy of the fathers—where every man was left free to pursue his own happiness unmolested—and less of that new fangled notion that we must be wards of the government and, in all we do, be ruled and guided by a school teacher, from the white house to the planting of a persimmon pole out in the woods.

MEDINA COUNTY TEACHERS MEET.

Saturday afternoon, teachers, representing seventeen districts of the county, met at the courthouse to discuss the numerous problems that had come up. One of the most important was that of the County Meet. As the full executive committee was not present, no definite business could be settled.

However, the teachers recommended that the Meet be held in Hondo. No time was recommended.

The teachers also recommended that girls' races should be included, and Mr. Howell, Director of Athletics, said that most likely their wish would be granted and the races would be put on the program. The teachers turned down a resolution that the spelling be oral and not written.

For a time the question seemed to hold little interest with the teachers, however, Mr. Howell closed the discussion with a lively talk on the Meet, and every teacher left determined to make a good showing with her, or his, school on the day of the Meet.

REPORT OF DEPART- MENT OF EDUCATION

E. R. LEINWEBER, J. D. HOWELL, President. Superintendent.
Visited by Chas. M. Rogers, January 20, 1921.

The building and physical features of the Hondo High School are substantially as reported last year. The science laboratory work is done in a class room, which is amply large for the purpose. The equipment seems adequate for physics and general science, the only sciences offered, and is kept in notably good order in adequate cabinets. The laboratory presented a very neat and orderly appearance.

The library, which is kept in the study hall and the several class rooms, is quite above minimum requirements. It is particularly strong in English classics, containing about 1500 copies, enough to supply all the students for their class study and outside reading. The next addition to the library should be some good anthologies for both English and American literature.

The supervisor's visit was on an examination day, and, consequently, no regular class room work was observed.
An interview was held with all the teachers, their work discussed, and written work examined. The teachers are of pleasing personality, enthusiastic, interested in their work, and apparently very efficient.

The daily written work and examination papers examined indicated thorough-going and painstaking efforts on the part of teachers, and exceptionally good results in the work of the students. Science notebooks and mathematics papers were above the average in form and neatness. History map-books and notebooks measured up to high standards. Civics papers indicated a very thorough and comprehensive course. This work will be followed by a course in economics, taught by the same teacher, and credit will be requested.

The fourth unit in English is being sought this year. This work was discussed at length with the teacher, who is a graduate of the University of Texas, and appears to be highly proficient in his work. The course is standard in organization with the exception that insufficient attention has been denoted to oral English. It is suggested that this phase of the work receive special emphasis during the remainder of the session, and that current magazines be employed at length.
The English teacher has only four recitations per day and about sixty students.

The supervisor is of the opinion that the examinations given in this school are too long and strenuous, and tax the endurance of high school boys and girls beyond the point where they can do themselves justice.

It is recommended that, provided specimens of work submitted are satisfactory, the fourth unit in English and one-half unit in economics be granted.

Chief Supervisor, High Schools

EXCHANGE.

Did you ever hear of the "The Jua-Jilla Leaf?" What is it and what kind of a tree does it grow on? Read on and you will find out. It doesn't grow on any tree at all, but the Senior class of the Hondo High School produces this Leaf semi-monthly. This school publishes a very creditable, interesting and artistic little paper in magazine form consisting of twelve pages.
From the generous advertising patronage shown in this little paper, the advertising manager must be a hustler and the business men of that little city must be proud of the High School production. Indeed they should be; for it is a credit to a town many times its size.—The Huisache.

The Political Grind.
"I have observed," said the friend,
"that whenever the caller who just departed visits anybody he has an ax to grind."
"Well," replied Senator Sorghum,
"we ought to be willing to contribute, if possible, to the worthy enterprises of others. I don't object to a man who has an ax to grind, if he honestly means to go out and chop wood with it. What I do object to is the politician who merely desires to whet a tomahawk."

Movie Theaters in China.
There are about half a dozen motion picture theaters in Tientsin, of which the leading foreign house has a capacity of 600, and the Chinese ones seat from 500 to 2,000 persons and give two shows daily. Films from most of the large American companies are exhibited, the popularity of the stars being about the same as in the United States.

Yes, We Find It That Way, Too.
"It has been truly said," Bags declared impressively, "that the world, financially, is divided into just two classes—those who borrow and those who lend."
"Not quite right," Bings responded gloomily. "The two classes are those who want to borrow and those who won't lend."

In Loving Remembrance Of my dear aunt, Rosalie Haby.

A precious one has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled, A place is vacant in our home Which never can be filled, God in his wisdom has recalled
The boon his love had given,
And though the body slumbers here,
The soul is safe in Heaven.

Dear Aunt thou has left us,
And our loss we deeply feel,
But it's God that has bereft us,
He can all our sorrows heal.
Yet again we hope to meet thee
When the day of life is fled, When in Heaven in joy to greet thee, When no farewell tear is shed.

We will miss thee from our home dear Aunt,
We miss thee from thy place,
A shadow over our life is cast, We miss the sunshine of thy face.
We miss thy kind and willing hand, Thy fond and earnest care,
Our home is dark without thee,
We miss thee everywhere.

WHY HOLD COUNTY MEET ELSEWHERE?

There seems to be some sentiment in the southeastern part of the county in favor of not holding the County Meet in Hondo. The only possible cause for this is mere selfishness.
Any reasonable person will see that Hondo is the best place in which to hold the meet.

This town is not only the county seat but, also, it is in the center of the county. This gives every town an equal distance to travel, and will help to increase the attendance, which would be small if the meet was held in a corner of the county.

Hondo has the best equipment in the county. College Square could be used for track and field and it is large enough to carry out every event of this division. Also, a good view of the entire field can be obtained by every one. On Armistice Day, about three thousand people watched a football game on this field and everyone saw the whole game. The tennis courts in the City Park are as good—if not better—as any in the county. The Hondo Auditorium is capable of seating a great crowd, and the public speaking could be carried out to an advantage here. The High School study-hall would be large enough to carry out the spelling and essay contests. The lighting and furnishing is not excelled in any other town of the county.

As mentioned before, Hondo is the county seat of Medina County and we have never heard of a county meet being held elsewhere, in any other county of the state.

In fact, we not only believe that Hondo is the only place to hold the County Meet, but also believe the District Meet could be held here to the advantage of everyone.

—Juajilla Leaf.

WASHINGTON AND AMERICANISM.

Probably, many celebrated yesterday with not a thought as to why the day was celebrated. Perhaps some did not care just as long as it was a holiday, and they knew it was a holiday, because there was no school and because the business houses were closed.

But a great majority recognized the day as the birthday of George Washington, America's first president.
There is no need to summarize the life of Washington here, for every true American knows it by heart and those who don't should have taken down their histories yesterday and spent the day in true celebration of this wonderful man's anniversary.

Washington has had much influence in forming the actions of this country.
Indeed, throughout the course of our history, teachers and statesmen have been inclined to ask, when confronted by some difficult question, "What did Washington say about this?" And it is seldom that they have not found some satisfactory answer to their question.

At the present time, we are confronted with many problems which are summed up in the words "True Americanism," and here again we are inclined to turn to the writings and sayings of Washington to see if we cannot get from him some suggestive solution for our problem.

In speaking to all his people he said:
"The country has a right to your attentions." To those who were born here, as well as those who came here of their own volition, he said: "The name of America, which belongs to you in your national capacity, must always exalt the just pride of Patriotism, more than any appellation derived from local discrimination."

Were he to return to this country on the anniversary of his birth, he would not stand amazed at the problems of Americanization, for he had them in his own time. The words quoted from his speeches and his writings show how earnestly he strove to meet and solve these questions which were raised by the presence of emigrants from foreign lands in the United States.

His spirit, in the words of one of his biographers, still seems to speak and say: "I am still here, my countrymen, to do you what good I can."

Why I Trade at Home.

I trade at home and never roam Seeking "bargains" elsewhere.
I love the town in which I live For all my interests are there.
And then, again, I buy from friends,
We all need one another.
When I run short I can approach My dealer as a brother.
When buying here with conscience clear,
I put my money down.
I know it stays right here and works For the welfare of my town.
Another thing, right here I bring The produce that I raise And always get an honest deal-- I've found that it pays.
And then, I know when buying here It helps things to relax,
And also helps the man who pays His portion of the tax.
And when I'm sick or in hard luck
The man I buy from's here With the pocket book, if need be,
And kindly words of cheer.
So that is why I trade at home;
I'm a booster through and through.
For a town that's good to live in
Is good to buy in, too.

BIGGER ACRE YIELDS NEEDED THIS YEAR

Profit This Year Will Come From High Yielding Acres, Says Agricultural Authority.

By J. C. Primmore,
Agronomist, Soil
Improvement Committee.

Profits in this will tend to increase the acre growing crops in 1921 will be determined largely by the yield per acre of crops grown. As a general thing, this is always true with all crops, but it is more strikingly so this year than in normal times, for the market value of cotton and other crops is lower, comparatively speaking, than is the cost of labor and other necessary items.

Higher yields per acre, then, regardless of the number of acres planted, is more pressing and more vital now with low crop prices, than when prices are high, if the farmer is to have any profit at all for growing his products. In the soil's productivity lies the farmer's one hope for the 1921 season.

The greatest drawback in the agricultural practices of this section today is the small acre yields produced. In fact, the yields are so small to give the farmer but little, if any, profit for his labors. Generally speaking, the bigger the yield per acre, the greater will be the net profit to the farmer. The slogan of every man interested in farming this year should be "LARGER ACRE YIELDS."

Bigger yields from each acre can be obtained by the following practical steps: (1) a more thorough preparation of the seed bed than is usually given it; (2) the use of well selected seed of a variety adapted to local conditions; (3) the wise and liberal use of commercial fertilizers; (4) constant, shallow cultivation to keep down weeds and grass.

Since the necessity for getting high acre yields is so great now, no land should be planted to cotton this year that is not fertile enough, or cannot be made so with fertilizers and manures, that will not, with favorable seasons, produce about a bale per acre and with the yield of other crops in proportion.

The land used this year for cash crops should be given the best and most thorough preparation possible, for it is now generally recognized that plants in order to develop rapidly and produce biggest yields must have a good seed bed in which to grow. Terracing, where needed, should be done to prevent washing and wasting of the most fertile top soil. Ditching where the land ordinarily is wet till late in the season should be done now, as

Since the lands under ordinary management are rapidly decreasing in nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash, it is essential, in getting big yields, that fertilizers containing these be applied in such quantities as will supply the needs of growing crops. Experimental results as well as practical experience of farmers show that each dollar invested in the right kind of fertilizer will return from $4.00 to $5.00 in value of additional crops from each acre fertilized.

As to the kind and amount of fertilizer to apply, one must of necessity be governed by the character of soil, its past treatment and the crop to be grown. Generally speaking, however, one is safe in using three or four hundred pounds of fertilizer for cotton on practically all soils except bottomlands. This fertilizer mixture should analyze 9 or 10 per cent available phosphoric acid and from 2 to 4 per cent nitrogen. If the soil is somewhat sandy in nature, the fertilizer should also contain 2 or 3 per cent potash.

The fertilizer used should be applied in the furrow under the row and thoroughly mixed with the soil while the land is being prepared, usually two days or two weeks previous to planting. Where no fertilizer distributor is available this is usually applied by hand.

Finally, for best results for cotton, at least, the rows should be comparatively close and the plants should be left 6 to 7 inches apart in the drill. Ordinarily we do not have enough stalks on the land for biggest cotton yields.

Frequent and shallow cultivation enough to keep down the weeds and grass, to retain the soil moisture should be followed till late in the season. By following such practices we are sure that the acre yields of cotton and other crops will be materially and profitably increased.

WHOLE BLOCK OF 'DEAD ONES'

Brewery Cemetery in Milwaukee Where Great and Small Alike Are Lying Side by Side.

Hush and tread softly, for the dead sleep here, a writer in the Milwaukee Sentinel admonishes.

Rows upon rows of them, piles upon piles of them, scorched by the summer sun, drenched by the rains of months. The bleak night winds sigh and rattle their bones and the thoughtless city drinks its near beer and soda water and forgets its companions of days gone by, who lie neglected in the great sepulcher.

Mighty and humble, they lie there together, sharing the same fate, the same oblivion. The six per center, killed with dozens of his brethren, at some gorgeous revel of the idle rich; the simple pint who died in slow agony on the supper table of a lowly cottage, even the great-hearted barrel that whilom dispensed "cheer" at a nickel a throw, they are there side by side.

In silent grandeur in the brewery yards at Tenth and Prairie streets, they raise their heads to heaven, forming a mighty monument to the drinks of yesterday.

Impressed by the sad sight, I turned in the other day to this "cemetery," and approached the sexton, who was sadly watering some fresh corpses, and engaged him in conversation. Our voices were accompanied by the steady drone of the barrels to be piled atop of the others, and the ghastly rattle of glass "dead ones" being carted away to the vaults beneath.

"Yes," said the good old man, wiping a tear from his furrowed brow, "they were all gay and happy once."

"They would spend the winters here, to be overhauled and go out again in the world in the summer, freshly loaded. There are some, you know, the best ones, that are saved to pack the near beer, but that's only a few in comparison with what we used to turn out. A good many of these barrels are being sold for soft drink factories and coopersage, but most of these are just stored here. I don't know what's to be done with 'em; they may be thrown away."

According to H. J. Stark, secretary, hundreds of thousands of dollars are represented in the surplus barrels, boxes and bottles left over from anti-prohibition days. The lot where they are stored occupies an entire square.

Japanese Studying English.

Classes in business ethics, business English and other commercial subjects, recently started by the Y. W. C. A. in Tokyo, are crowded with applicants, according to word received from the Japanese association. Girls who before this have been in industry, are entering business in large numbers, but with almost no knowledge of the conventions usually observed in the business world and with little experience in business subjects. Business girls, teachers, nurses, factory workers, students and young married women make up the membership of the Y. W. C. A. in Tokyo, which was started fifteen years ago. There are four other city associations and thirty student associations in Japan.

Realism of the Movies.

Dorothy was at a moving picture theater with her nurse. There was portrayed on the screen a train rapidly approaching a spot in the foreground where a man sat on the track unaware of the oncoming danger. To the child the situation was a real one, and in excited whispers she entreated her nurse:

"Please have him get off the track! Please have him get off!"

As the train drew nearer the spot where the man sat, the child, unable to restrain the warning which she felt was necessary, rose in her seat and shouted at the top of her voice:

"Man, get off!"

Double Rations.

The time had come to dole out the day's rations, and in an Irish regiment the quartermaster and his assistant were portioning them out in preparation for distribution.

At last, just before the orderly men were due to arrive, the assistant turned to the quartermaster. With a twinkle in his eye, Mike said:

"Av ye plaze, sorr, there's a loaf short. Who'll I give it to?"

"Keep it yourself, Mike," replied the quartermaster.

Mother Goose, Linguist.

Mary's mother was improving the shining hours with a little French conversation, which Mary, aged four, was finding somewhat irksome. To some remark her mother replied "Oul, oul," at which Mary said, in an exasperated tone:

"Don't talk that pig talk to me."

"That isn't pig talk, dear; it's—"

"Yes, it is, too, mother. That's just what the little pig said all the way home."—Harper's.

Mystery of the Pyramids.

"Nobody knows just why the pyramids of Egypt were built," remarked the archeologist.

"No," rejoined the suspicious citizen. "Maybe there wasn't any reason beyond the fact that some of those Pharaoh boys felt under obligations to provide graft for influential friends."

GOAT MAKES GOOD COMPANION

Better Than Dog, According to Writer —Pretty Incident Seen in the Swiss Alps

Because the British ministry of agriculture is warmly advocating the keeping of goats by English cottagers the attractions of the animal are being put forward by many writers in the press and among the advantages of it as a useful pet it is said that a goat is a much better companion on a walk than even a dog. The goat does not require you to wait and whistle for it; it does not disappear into bushes after rabbits, but will be a steady walker with you from start to finish. The goat likes long walks, and it likes your companionship, which is not to be wondered at since from prehistoric times the goat has been a domestic animal.

The writer will never forget a scene in a little village high up in the Swiss Alps. It was the close of a hot day, the village lay in shadow, though the sun was still on the green pastures above, where at early dawn a herdsman had led his animals from the distant chalets in the little street, to the pasturage on the hill side. A cloud of dust in the distance told that the flock was returning, and as they passed along one by one they would leave the rest to turn into their own homes, every one knowing just where it ought to go. The sound of jangling bells and their feet on the high road made those who were standing about move on one side to let the long-legged goats pass, but out from the lower floor of a chalet a little child toddled, scarcely able to keep her feet; she went to meet the herd that was pressing on. She fought her way through them, pushing the rough sides of the goats, her little head reaching as high as their backs, till she reached one like all the rest—the stranger could tell no difference. Her arms went up round its neck, and its long grave face looked impassively at her as they stepped out of the crowd and went off to the chalet together, one little arm still resting on the goat's neck.—Christian Science Monitor.

The "Pie Calendar."

Schoolboys would easily remember the months of the year if they would study them in the "pie calendar" that the Chicago Daily News has prepared and that celebrates the kind of pie most appropriate to each month.

There is no such general agreement about pies as there is about flowers or birth stones, but the following list will probably commend itself to the judgment of most inhabitants of the pie belt:

January, cranberry; February, apple; March, rhubarb; April, raisin; May, strawberry; June, peach; July, cherry; August, gooseberry; September, blueberry; October, currant; November, pumpkin; December, mince.—Youth's Companion.

He Was Superstitious.

Every one knows that a lot of people are superstitious about $2 bills, but a new phase of it appeared on a Fourteenth street crosstown car. A $2 bill was tendered in payment of fare. Panic! "For God's sake, ain't you got anything else," said the conductor, backing away.

"Sorry, but I haven't got any small change."

"It ain't the size of the bill, G'l'm'e a five or a ten and I'll change it, but if I take that I'll have an accident sure before the end of the run. It never failed. We either run into somebody or somebody runs into us, or we go off the track."—New York World.

Smart Boy.

"That boy seems to be the most popular caddie around the club. Everybody wants to take him out."

"Yes."

"Is he a better caddie than the others?"

"I don't think so. He's just the best diplomat we have around here."

"A diplomat. I don't get you."

"It's this way. The artful little chap is wise to the game and every time the man he is caddying for makes a poor shot the boy looks sad and apologizes to him for having coughed or moved. That gives the player an excuse for losing the hole and keeps the boy solid in his job."
